"An Imperfect Servant Can Still Have Joy"

BY PASTOR DON GARDNER

"Reflection & Discernment"

Matthew 7:15-29

Rev. Dillon Le

1. Are you following godly leaders?

(v. 15-20)

2. Is your own faith sincere?

(v. 21-23)

3. Do you put the Bible into practice?

(v. 24-29)

Notes:

Life always brings us interesting experiences. This week, I accompanied my wife to a doctor's appointment where I sat in the waiting room to read during her medical exams. At one point, a receptionist came through a door to welcome a patient by speaking his name to the broader waiting room. As he stood and moved through the inner door frame toward where she directed, he "corrected her" with the comment that she should address him as "doctor." Hearing his words, it was all that I could do to keep from laughing at his arrogance even as I wanted to apologize to the receptionist that such people existed in this world.

As I wrestled with my own feelings toward what I had observed, I thought that I should walk by her and smile with the comment that "I am the King of some Siam!" Truly, how any man could be so obtuse is beyond my understanding.

As I continued to sit in the waiting room, I reflected on how Jesus' behavior as he moved around in different groups. That I remember, he never demanded anyone refer to him as the Messiah or the mighty ruler! Oh sure, he would ask what others might think of him or who they thought he was but pride never motivated His actions or requests. Jesus modeled a gentle testimony of truth and love that wasn't based on people only respecting Him because of his title. My prayer, for you and me, is that we worry less about our worldly accomplishments and be more concerned about being the salt and light that the Lord desires of us. Please pray for me even as I serve in my weakness!
