The Topic of the Day:

"Abortion is no longer a 'given' across the USA!"

"Now that the Supreme Court has overturned Roe v. Wade and Planned Parenthood v. Casey, individual states will be free to make their own decisions on abortion." We must grasp that the decisions that have been made are at the Federal level and may not reflect the hopes of many individuals. Many states have laws in place that will now automatically protect or prohibit abortion access. Some other states will almost certainly become contested battlegrounds for control of state legislatures and the governorship in order to pass measures in either direction." We can all expect that much of the news media will overwhelm us in the upcoming months as various states are determining what their political and religious values are as they make declarations toward their specific state's stance toward the Supreme Court's decisions. With the upcoming mid-term elections coming up soon, we can well expect that this topic of planned parenthood and the "removal of babies from the womb" will be hot on the burner for discussion.

Up until the early 70s, abortion was fully and clearly defined as the murdering of life and not something that most people would have considered should be presented to the American people as acceptable. Yet, at that time, our "so-called Christian nation" made some compromises with the values of man's importance to God and a Federal position opened up some behavior that would undoubtedly bring us in conflict with Exodus 20:13. Fifty years later, the government has reviewed and reversed the national position on abortion and placed final stances back in the hands of the various states. Of course, the only real importance is for us to determine God's direction toward this matter.

At this time, we Christians must recognize the changes that the reversal of Roe vs. Wade can have on our society and how it may impact our lives. As our state determines it's direction toward how to provide for the birthing of babies that for 1/2 century were eliminated via the tool of abortion, the church has to consider and plan for its' role in ministering to both new mothers and newly birthed infants. While we might hope that morals and the understanding of God-designed standards of sexual behavior might be viewed/managed as something to be found within the bounds of married life, the church must be practical in taking on outreach toward those who continue to ignore what God has declared within Scripture regarding lifestyle habits and moral indiscretions. Life is precious to God or He would not have created it with the understanding that one man and one woman would develop families to populate the earth. It is my prayer that our church will see us reading, planning, and financially considering how we may assist our society via outreach and ministry. Please "dream with us" how God may want to use us!
